Forward...

your country is depending on you, Class of '44, to make this chaotic world a world which tomorrow's graduates will want to live in. Go Forward—Progress—You Must. Yes, the world is in chaos; it won't be this way always, and it's you who can make it better, you doctors, lawyers, teachers, flyers, journalists, housewives, secretaries of tomorrow's world. Some of you may give your life in the service of your country and to such patriot-martyrs the living survivors must make a promise to help build a better world. There have been obstacles to hinder you; there will be more and greater ones. Just as man has conquered the air despite untold setbacks, so must you ever advance, improving, indulging in new fields.

This book records activities and advancements of our past four years. No one can say what the future will hold, but this we say: "We shall do our utmost, to form a better society. No faltering. The password is FORWARD."

We Dedicate

From the time the class of '44 entered Regional Mr. Hohn has been our adviser. Whenever we needed help or guidance he has always been ready with his kindly advice and tactful suggestions.

The excellent standing of the science department is in a large measure the product of Mr. Hohn's earnest efforts, of his genuine interest in Regional and its students. Those of us who have had the good fortune to be in his classes appreciate the soundness of our preparation for scientific work in college or industry.

We all like and respect Mr. Hohn. We like him for his human qualities—friendliness, generosity, individuality, and sense of humor. We respect him for his directness, honesty and clear thinking.

As an expression of appreciation and as a sign of real affection we dedicate this "Regionalogue" to WALTER J. HOHN.

STUDENT BODY
FACULTY

OUR CHIEF PILOT

To the members of the senior class of 1944 both in the Service and at school I give my best wishes. With the splendid support of the Board of Education it has been my purpose at all times to provide each of you with the best possible educational opportunity at Regional. The friendly spirit for which the school is noted, the interest in student progress on the part of members of the teaching staff, and the excellent cooperation of students from six communities are due in part to my own interest in all of you.

With our beloved country at war it will be your obligation to continue to do your part either in the Service or on the home front. May the preparation which you have acquired through your efforts at Regional stand you in good stead in performing your duties as good citizens.

F.F.A. 1, 2, 3, 4, Watchdog 3, President 4; Track 4; Clubs—Chess 1, 4; Gym Drill 2, 3.
Pete is an outstanding fellow as far as the F.F.A. is concerned. Being on the State Champion Apple Packing Team, and being president of the F.F.A. are real achievements.

Unfortunately Paul came late and left early. From Lindhurst, through Regional, to the Army he marched. It was "Hello" and "Goodbye." We rate him as a regular fellow and a gentleman.

None of the joys of a senior year were for these boys. They have been training and fighting while we remained in the safety of school and home. In our study, work, and play we remember them and take pride in their service and courage.

While hundreds of Regional boys are fighting to protect the right of self government, this cherished right is put into practice at school through the Student Council, the Hall Patrol, and other student organizations.

The Student Council is now playing a two-fold part in Regional life. Not only is it our governing body, but also the medium through which Regional war activities are carried out. By its effort the coveted Minute Man flag has been kept flying. The Council also presents many awards to graduating students each year. The chief duty of the council remains to stimulate thoughtful and active citizenship within the student body.

Regional M. P.s or Hall Patrol members enforce good order in the corridors. Stationed at the far flung outposts of the halls, they watch for violators of Regional law. Faithfulness is their motto.

As an acknowledgment of high scholastic ability, and good citizenship, students are admitted to the Regional Chapter of the National Honor Society. This affords an incentive for diligent work, for membership is a coveted honor. Each year the chapter gives awards and prizes for scholarship to seniors at commencement.

In these three bodies are vested the ambitions and ideals of Regional.

The orchestra has taken an active part in our school life this year. It takes over assemblies when the band isn't here. The orchestra gave our Christmas program, played for the P.T.A., for the Senior Play, gave a program for the grade schools, and played for grade-school graduations. Besides these visible contributions, it does many things that are just as important.

Under Miss Diener's able direction the members have discovered what fun it is to play together. Sometimes they divide into groups and have ensemble playing. This is perhaps the most fun of all.

Listen. Do you hear the drum? Do you hear that horn? Say, that's the band! The Gene Krupas and the Harry Jameses of Regional showing their pep at those football games; those Friday assemblies; the trampers in the Memorial Day parade; and the queer noises that come from the auditorium every Monday and Friday after school. Yes, that's the band. Regional's band. The result of Mr. Russette's hard work and cooperation for which we are all very grateful. Just think, where would we be without a school band?

Regional can surely boast of its musical activities —a highlight in our busy lives.

The choir has a membership of over seventy students, meeting every Wednesday for a good down-to-earth rehearsal. We're quite proud of this organization—any school would be!

The Girl's Glee Club is one that most girls like to join; it's their stepping stone to the choir.

This year Boys' Glee Club was again organized, but with this man shortage, we're a little doubtful how long it will exist. Oh! We made it!

The Ensemble is made up of our better singers —You know those Carusos and Lily Pons.

The Christmas pageants, spring festivals, and benefit performances keep our music department busy.

BOOSTER CLUB

"Fellows, we're really interested in your progress in athletics and we propose to help you, encourage you and back you up to the utmost of our ability." That was the promise of the Regional Booster Club organized among the parents in the first year of our existence as a school.

Few really know to what an extent they have kept that promise. Without them, due to the lack of bus transportation, our teams would not have been able to get to the games; there would have been no medals; no Sports Dinners; no feeling of solid backing—win or lose.

We know that Mr. Halsey, the faculty and the coaches join the student body in saying, "Hats off!" to the parents who have shown so much interest and who have supported us so loyally.

Future Farmers of America

For the past five years our Pioneer Chapter of the F.F.A. have been in the spotlight at Regional.

They have contributed with cooperation and service in community, state, and nation; participating in State Public Speaking and Apple Packing contests, from which latter they have come home with honors for the second consecutive year; sponsoring Christmas Food Basket Drives for the needy; and annually sponsoring a Father and Son Banquet. This year in particular, the "Ag" boys have done a two-fisted job helping in the war effort; relieving where farm labor shortage was bad and helping to conserve farm machinery and tools by repairing equipment in Regional's farm mechanics classes in our Farm Shop.

This is really a record of faithful and unselfish service. Regional is proud of the Pioneer Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Girls' Flight Jr. Air Reserves

Kneeling: Catherine Titley, Shirley Honecker, Lois Knoll, Eloise Peterson, Lois Chapin. Seated: Donna Payton, Marylin Crouse, Jean Gemmill, Betty Jane Knauss, Margaret Brahm, Shirley Danenhour, Ethel Volker. America's Future Is in the Air

The Junior Air Reserve group for students under sixteen has been inaugurated in the form of two new clubs, one for boys; the other, for girls.

Though each group works separately, their activities are basically the same. The organization is like that of the regular air corps. Groups of fifteen are made up from the "cadets" enrolled. Such groups are known as "flights." Chance for advancement is offered by meeting certain qualifications; the highest rank obtainable is that of Captain.

Students learn about the operation and function of an airways radio beam. They become acquainted with air traffic rules, identification of planes, names and location of airplane parts, etc.

Aviation belongs to youth; Regional is presenting its youth the opportunity to own it.

The first task of the Model Plane Club members is the building of gliders. This accomplished, many boys proceed to make flying models. Many members have made model planes to be used by the Navy in aircraft-recognition classes.

In good weather you will likely see the Map Club outdoors surveying and drawing maps from their results. On the bleak winter days they amuse themselves with Math tricks. The use of the slide rule and sextant is taught for the boys who are planning to enter the services.

The Semaphore and Blinker Club has come to Regional on the wings of war. With the armed forces needing so many more men and women in their ranks there is a great need for training along these lines. The Radio Communication Club is another recent arrival. Miss Gulliver has charge of the club which consists of both boys and girls. Code recordings are played and then translated thus training our future radio operators.

Radio Communications

Among Regional's new clubs Military Strategy under the direction of Mr. Perlman, does a great deal to help students understand the armed forces.

The boys have become familiar with different branches of the armed services —their duties, their importance, and the significance of their insignia. They are learning the basic principles of warfare and can read intelligently a military communique. This club serves a very timely interest. Of course, the members need more time for such problems.

Camouflage Club

Sea Service Club

It's no wonder that Tojo keeps his fleet in hiding. That's his safest plan while Regional and the U. S. Navy are working together. The members of this Sea Service Club are learning the applications of mathematics to simple piloting. They puzzle over such technical matters as "circle of visibility," "danger angle," "cross weaving of two or more objects," etc. Their discussions range from such exciting subjects as landing barge operations to questions of rank, rating, and compensation among navy personnel.

Poster Service

Before Regional had this lively club, the many war-effort posters were drawn by a few volunteers. Soon, however, the need for posters became too great, and a club was organized. At present there are thirty members, with varying degrees of experience. Our war-time campaigns would have been less successful had it not been for the many posters contributed. All homerooms that attain one hundred per cent on war-stamp sales for a month receive a "V for Victory" poster. These posters are made by the club.

Service Honor Roll Club

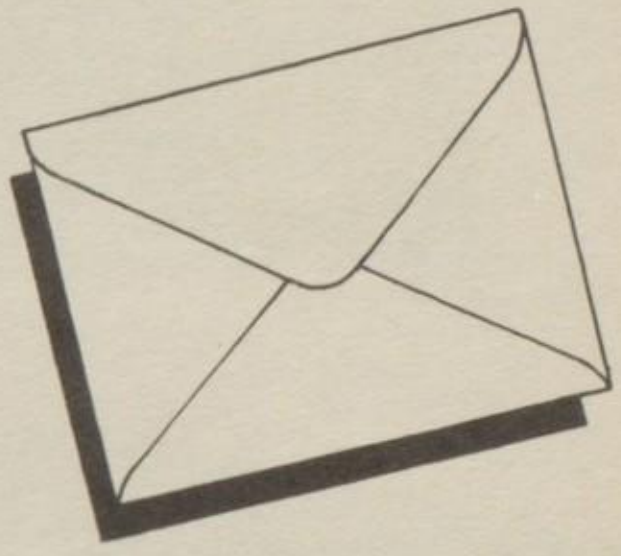
With vigor and enthusiasm these girls have gone to work and performed a real patriotic service to the school and to its six communities. It has not been easy to make an accurate and up-to-date list of all Regional boys and girls who are enrolled in the armed forces. These girls have searched draft lists and newspapers; they have inquired of relatives and friends in order to prepare an accurate file card for each service man and woman. On the cards they have listed the name, address, rank, branch of service and any other marks of distinction.



Service Correspondence Club

These morale builders write letters to the fellows in service. They undertake to write good letters—letters that are enjoyable, that contain life, spirit, interest, and news—letters that do more than fill an envelope.

Here is one of Regional's most successful clubs. Everyone in it has joined because he wants to do the kind of work that the club offers. The quality, the variety, and the quantity of work accomplished is truly surprising. Posters, window displays, place cards, party favors, yearbook work, dance decorations, bulletin board charts, special assignments, and personal projects—the list of accomplishments is too long to include here.

The whole school benefits. The club members have a good time, put in a lot of time and effort and get a lot of satisfaction in return.

The student conducting club learns not only how to lead different types of music, but also how to get more feeling from music. They learn the fundamental beats and how to recognize them. This is not all. The Student Conductors study the great music masters and learn how to lead some of their music.

The club consists of eighteen persons. Each time they meet, one or two are asked on that day to learn how to lead a new piece of music. Only from experience can they perfect themselves enough to be able to get up in front of a group of people and lead them in song. Miss Diener, our Music Director, has made this Club possible, and we thank her.

Build the future with books—that is the motto of the unsung workers who make up the library council. To a handful of girls, under the direction of Miss Dimmers, belongs the task of keeping the library one of the most vital and efficient elements in Regional life.

These volunteers, who give two periods a week, work faithfully. They file, check, shelve, prepare new books for circulation, and in general act as assistants to the librarian. Collecting news items of Regional events and recording activities of former students have been important projects this year. Future students will find a list classifying biographies according to profession. This invaluable time saver has been prepared by this council.

An interesting feature of the library has been the suggestive reading shelf. Here the students find good displays of appropriate books for the season—literature on holidays, birthdays of famous men and women, nationally celebrated weeks, and the like.

The council has made available material that keeps the student informed about different branches of the armed forces and qualifications necessary for enlisting.

Prominently displayed patriotic posters impress on the minds of the students the fact that the library is alive and in step with the times.

Club life is not a bed of roses for the members of the Regionalogue Club. These people have had work to do and loads to lift. What a load off their minds it was to have the Regionalogue finally go to press.

One project that proved to be surprisingly complex was the task of identifying all the people in all the group pictures. A person who has not had this experience has little understanding of the size of this job. To check the spelling of all the names is likewise a big job.

Many of the club members devoted a great deal of time and energy on the selling of yearbook subscriptions, the selling of advertisements and, all kinds of yearbook promotion. They campaigned for snapshots, they helped the professional photographer. They wrote personality sketches, sports articles, and a variety of yearbook articles. Typists were always in demand.

One couldn't go on forever making writeups, identifying pictures, checking names, typing lists, etc., if there weren't some fun in it. Work and pleasure were well combined in this busy club.

BASKETBALL

The keynote of this year's basketball season has been the progress that Coach Boutot and the basketeers have made in the all-important job of rebuilding. Through graduation the squad lost a large number of boys who were key men in our former successful seasons.

A great deal of progress was made from week to week. The boys bore out Mr. Boutot's faith in them. Near the end of the long schedule the fellows rounded out into a smooth-playing team. Good sportsmanship, patient practice, plenty of head work, and real spirit were needed. The team had what it takes. They learned from defeats as well as from victories. They took eleven losses and earned six wins.

The team this year hit its best stride during the County Tournament. With real speed and finesse the boys played smart and aggressive basketball and eliminated our chief rival, Rahway. Continuing in their winning stride they went on to defeat Plainfield. With this caliber of team play they went on from the semi-finals into the finals where the winning streak was broken by St. Patrick's, the team that won the County championship.

FOOTBALL

The Regional Bulldogs became a serious threat to other football elevens for the first time in over two years. Under the able leadership of our new coach, Arthur Boutot, and his assistant, Ed Ruby, the team played through what may justly be termed one of the most surprising seasons that any of our teams has had.

They showed their fighting spirit when they trampled a powerful Cranford team by 25-20. At Roselle, they swamped another confident eleven by an overwhelming score of 20-0. Then showing that nothing could hold them back, they met Union's gridders in a sea of mud and submerged them 8-0. The record book, of course, tells of defeats and disappointments, but we believe that these three victories reflect the spirit and power of a good team. We believe that this is only a preview of what the Bulldogs will do to all opposition in the coming seasons.

TRACK - - - 1943

With such outstanding names as George Smart, Charlie Johnson, Al Neilson, and Bruce Davis to inspire them, our future track teams should have no trouble in traveling down the road to victory.

Although Smart and Nielson have graduated and Charlie Johnson, our javelin star, has entered the air corps, we still have boys with plenty of spirit and ability left to follow in their footsteps.

Shadow Smart, with an almost unbelievable record of wins, chalked up 130 points for Regional this season. His specialties were the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes.

Bruce Davis, specializing in low hurdles and pole-vaulting, scored 52.5 points.

We have had a track team that all teams could look up to. If the determination to win, that the newcomers have, means anything, we will have a good season in 1944.

CHEERLEADING

A cheerleading squad is important in any school. At Regional the cherleaders have supported the team in a wonderful way. Whether the team was winning or losing, the cheering squad was always out there giving them support and cheering the team on to victory.

Under the faithful guidance and coaching of Miss Phillips, this group has become really quite efficient. The cheerleaders practice diligently in the Cafeteria every afternoon, originating new cheers, improving old ones and always thinking of ways to boost the morale of the team and the spirit of the students.

WRESTLING

Regional's twelve mighty men closed a hectic season with one victory; but they won the admiration of every team they wrestled. These boys are known for their genuine sportsmanship and their real fighting spirit. They won their first match and did surprisingly well in the rest, considering the number of new wrestlers that made up the team.

When they got into the New Jersey State Tournament, the real strength of the team made itself clear. Whenever a Regional man lost a bout, it was usually lost to none but a state champ. In fact two men, Art Sachsel and Pat Scorese, won state championships. Dick Reeve won a second. The team score was very good—fourth in the state.

CROSS COUNTRY

Although they were outscored in many of their meets, Regional's harriers throughout the season had the courage and determination to fight gamely till the end that is typical of all Regional's teams. They were led through another season by Captain John Forgino and coached by "Doc" Cookman. Cross Country is rapidly coming into the limelight that it deserves on the sports calendar at Regional.

Although they only won about half of their meets, this year's team was the first to beat both Rahway and Cranford in the same season. Ending the season with a final burst of speed, the harriers came in third at the county meets.

Girls' Sports

Girls' sports flourished this year in spite of bad weather and a busy gym. Our hockey team really got under way and we had four good basketball teams and some hot competition for the plaque. Besides theam sports we have many out-of-school activities that keep us in trim. But when with all these, Miss Phillips can get us very stiff with a few deep-knee-bends in gym class.

Pilot's Log

September 8: Eat drink and be merry for tomorrow we die.

September 9: Swarms of freshman search hopelessly for a senior boy . . . so do senior girls.

September 14: Everything at Regional on accelerated program except students.

September 21: The "joys" of school come into the category of the "old grind."

September 25: Echoes or "Fight, team fight!" welcome our football season as Bound Brook proved what a good team they had by beating us only 6-0.

October 1: Freshmen initiated into the mysteries of the birds and bees under the able direction of Dr. Cookman.

October 2: Remember Nussbaum's last minute touchdown. Our hoarse throats and a squad of vicious Bulldogs? We proved that "all things come to him who wait" as Crawford witnessed the Bulldog Fangs while losing, 25-20.

October 9: So you can't win 'em all. Shipping momentarily into the lost column, our team made Somerville fight for their meager 6-0 triumph.

October 13: Thermometers drop . . . students take red flannels from the moth balls.

October 16: We didn't do it again! Eight hundred students after scalp of Bob Stafford of Caldwell.

October 21: No. 1 ration books issued . . . our mouths water for a juicy hamburger.

October 23: Our football team didn't fail us, (they didn't dare!) they out kicked, passed and tackled Roselle to the tune of 20-0.

October 29: The shock subsided as students gazed at report cards; made numerous resolutions.

October 30: Mud Balls vs. Mud Balls. We think Regional beat Union, but we haven't any actual proof. . . . Here's mud in your eye!

October 29: Flash! Police report spooks high-railing it away from Hallowe'en Jamboree. . . . those Regional gators just can't control themselves.

November 1-4: Does my hair look all right? Is my tie straightened? Can't you tone those lights down? Yessir! Senior portraits. We paid extra for a special camouflage job.

November 11: Celebrated the ending of World War I by a small battle of our own with South River. Result? No casualties, no touchdowns, no victory.

November 15: Again we're thankful for healthy lungs as we have Patch Test.

November 20: North Plainfield game wasn't . . . the sissies.

November 24: First act of the "Yellow Shadow" left us in shivers and John Kundrat's insanity (acting of course) left us in stitches!

November 25: Thanksgiving game. œ*!$$&x! censored.

December 1: 24 more days 'til Christmas. We're breathless.

December 10: Last of "Yellow Shadow." Dave Hart was the murderer . . . aren't you shamed, Dave?

December 10: Same day. Basketball team out basketed Linden, 25-20.

December 16: Harmony floated from the auditorium as Regional songbirds welcomed in Christmas. Even the participants swooned (or was it the heat?)

December 21: Seniors celebrated Christmas vacation with a super-duper dance: Who invented mistletoe?

January 3: All good things must end. . . . Students off books . . . public opinion—"here we go again."

January 5: Started New Year's right by trimming Chatham, 50-30.

January 7: We should play teams like Cranford. Oy-ga-voalt!

January 12: Our athletes' feast at Chiam-Chateau at Sports Banquet. Medals, footballs and basketballs distributed.

January 13: Seems the sports trinkets were given to the girls. We're confused.

January 21: "You didn't tell the truth so you must pay the consequences." Ralph Edwards Beninati stumps 'em while Ray Burns turns feminine! Your slip's showing, Burnsey!

January 25: Almost a red letter day. Rahway just escaped, 39-37. Guess we'll have to wait 'til next year.

January 28: Girls had their day at the Sophomore Leap Year Dance. Chaperons report only two fist fights. Quiet night.

February 4: Can't say our assemblies don't please everyone . . . two WAC officers for the males and (sigh) Air Corps Captain for the gals.

February 9: A novelty trio "versatiled" us into a panic. As boys stood around with bushel baskets . . . the corn was flying hither and yon;

February 15: Students top goal of $5,000 in War Bond drive. Yessir—Regional's right in there pichin'.

February 22: College Prep. Seniors commence soft soaping teachers. Reason: Those endless application forms for college.

February 30: Hey! How did that get in there?

March 1: And like a lion—pass me my snuggies, Ma!

March 10: Miss Diener's canaries chirp for the Red Cross! Profits come rollin' in.

March 17: Faith and this is just like Ireland! Amid three leaf clovers the Freshmen proved that the old blarney works—we all bought tickets.

March 22: Spring finally in air. Pardon us while we thaw!

March 31: The undefinable "The Man Who Came to Dinner" a smash hit; Naussbaum forgets his English accent and says "Noits." Dick Reeves out-talks Whiteside. . . . Miss Mac counts thirteen new gray hairs.

April 1: Again "The Man Who Came to Dinner" wowed 'em. Who put the pepper under Bob Halsey's nose? Have you forgotten? April Fool.

April 3: Seniors clean up, count profits, and return battered properties. Kundrat resorts to bicarbonate.

April 6-17: Gasp: We made it. Now we count the days 'til June. Teachers assign homework. . . . Love's labor lost!

May 5: I met him in the park one day; in the merry month of May . . . and darned if he didn't ask me to the Maypole Dance. Latest reports state that Sachsel is still stangled in the ribbons from the Maypole.

May 14: Mrs. Montgomery remarks (quote) "even bicarbonates are no cure for spring fever" (unquote). Ain't it the truth?

May 19: "She swished around in yards of silk
In fact she seemed to glow
With loving eyes she beamed at me
And yelled, 'Get off my toe.'"

May 22: Five more Seniors enter the Army or the Navy. We didn't know there were that many left.

May 30: With thanks to whoever tho't it up. We observed a well deserved holiday.

June 2: Sweat pores from our foreheads because the brains are working overtime.

June 6: We breathe again—exams are over.

June 8: Teachers can't understand the lacking attendance in their classes.

June 9: After four years we've made the grade. Tossing our sheepskins in the attic, we yell triumphantly, "We're free . . . world, here we come."

Pick-ups

In the future you will see
The greatest lover of the century.
Our one and only bashful boy,
Bob Halsey, now the—real McCoy.

Frances Dowd our "book of knowledge,"
Spent six years in a Doctor College.
Now that she has received her degree,
A famous veterinary she will be.

Vin, our well-known glamour boy,
Is now residing at the "Hotel Savoy,"
One of New York's smartest spots,
He works in the kitchen scrubbing Potts.

Art Sachsel is a leading figure,
Possesses brains, pep and vigor.
Now that the dentist business is soaring,
Poor Sachsel finds his work quite boring.

Elaine Pfeiffer with plenty on the ball,
Was anxious to appear in Carnegie Hall.
She goes out daily on the stage,
As head charwoman—she's quite the rage.

Fred Roessle is our president and greatest politician,
We know he will succeed—anyway we're wishing.

But—alas and alack as you will plainly see,
A second Shirley Temple his curls fate him to be.

Jean Maniscalco, the girl with a voice,
When in need of a secretary, Jean is first choice.
She now lives on a farm and early each fall,
Is a blue ribbon winner in the county hogcall.

Hidi is a darn cute girl,
She really puts the men in a whirl.
At last she's found her rightful spot,
As "Zipsy" of the "Palace" she's really hot.

Claire Smith our own Katharine Cornell,
Has played many parts and done well.
Now she's enacting the role of her life,
As a homemaker—a mother—and a wife.

John Cordes, blond, handsome and game,
Was sure destined for stardom and fame.
Known far and wide as quite a charmer,
Alas, he winds up a chicken farmer.

Barbara Dannenhour, editor of the "Dayton,"
As a student, had a good ratin'.
All the knowledge she did acquire,
Makes her eligible to edit "Esquire."
